Reformed country house for sale in a spectacular setting with potential to develop into a holiday rental business.

The property is set on a hillside with 2500m² of land, planted with fruit trees and space to create a pool if required. There is an exceptionally large garage built below the house, which itself, is on various levels.

The main house has full central heating, air con in the main bedroom and lounge, and internet and Sat TV connection. The lower level has an entrance hall, utility room, toilet, and beautiful big kitchen -dining room. Upstairs is a lovely bright lounge with double aspect windows and 2 extremely spacious bedrooms, both with en-suite bathrooms.

Next to the main house is the annexe which has a living room-kitchen, large double bedroom and bathroom with both shower and bath.

This character property is definately worth viewing.

This character filled property would be ideal for a large family or for a holiday rental business. The annexe and possibly the garage could provide rental accomodation and the main house as the owners residence.
